Section

- 1 Repealer. Repeals Laws 2011, First Special Session chapter 2, article 5, section 69, which established restrictions on the commissioner of natural resources if the commissioner adopted rules that imposed antler point restrictions in certain deer permit areas in southeastern Minnesota. The limits included requiring the rules to expire after the 2012 deer hunting season. The commissioner did adopt antler point restrictions in the area in 2010, which required four points on one side for all hunters older than 17 during the archery, firearms, and muzzleloader seasons. The repeal of this law is retroactive so the antler point restrictions would not expire.
